into a defensive, which to-night appeared almost hopeless to many Democratic leaders.

Forced to fight for the very life of the proposed measure, the Democrats succeeded in adjourning the Senate with the motion pending to send the bill back to committee. A party caucus immediately was called for tomorrow morning.

Senator Clarke, of Arkansas, sprang surprise when he rose while Senator William Alden Smith, of Michigan, was concluding a long speech against the bill, and asked him to yield of other legislation, moved to fidavit send back the ship bill.

LOST BY 49 TO 36 VOTE The motion was immediately put, d there was a loud chorus of "Noes." On a roll call the motion to adjourn was lost by a vote of 49 to 36. Senator Stone then moved that Senator Clarke's motion to recommit be laid on the table, and this, too, was lost by a vote of 44 to 42, seven Democrats voting Republicans, and Senator Democratic minority.

Democrats who opposed the motion table were: Bankhead, Camden, a week, a little more than half a pound Clarke, Hardwick, Hitchcock, O'Gorman and Vardaman. These seven, it subsequently developed, had conferred official order directing that all stocks early in the day, and determined to of copper, tin, aluminum, nickel, antibreak the deadlock, with a view either mony and lead are to be reserved for to material revision of the measure or entirely sidetracking it, at 'east in so ar as the present session is concerned.

This brought the motion to recom nit squarely before the Senate, when Senator Reed, of Missouri, was recognized, and began arraigning his colleagues who had revolted and Republicans who had opposed the bill as supporters of the shipping trust which Reed, who persistently throughout the administration has been opposed to its purposes, defended the bill.

SHIP TRUST MONOPOLY "I congratulate the hoary old ship trust monopoly," he said, "on the fac that it appears still to possess in this day and age endigh vigor to invade the Democratic side of the chamber and find votes in its support.' While Senator Reed was speaking Republican Senators exulted, while Democratic leaders rushed hurriedly in and out of committee-room conferences to determine on a course of action They counted noses, figuring on absentees, and could not see a way out of the difficulty. Some sought conferences with progressive Republicans. Senator Norris, who had offered amendments several days before which would strengthen the permanency of the proposed government enterprise, told Sen tors who offered to accept his amendments that they came a few hours too Amendments will be considered in the Democratic caucus to-morrow The caucus also will endeavor to find way to get the Republican-Progressive support without recommitting the pill. If this fails and the bill is recommitted, many of its most sanguine dead for this session.
